Inotice that he will not be responsible for any debt or on or after this date

THE debate which we publish this morning, so far as it bears on this Colony, is one of the most important ever, had in Parliament. Mr. Monsell, the Under-Secretary for the Colonies, spoke highly of the capabilities of British Columbia and its prospects. Lord Bury's prophecy that, in the time of men yet living ships from and for Liverpool would take in and discharge cargoes at the foot of the Rocky Mouns tains, is a startling one. The noble lord pictured a bright future for British Columbia as the future highway to Japan and India. Some of the speaks ers threw cold water on this proposition, but they appeared to have been as much at sea as Mr. Adderley when he said that 98 per cent. of British Columbians were from the United States, which accounted for their Annexation tendencies. The debate, on the whole, was highly favorable to our interests. The policy of the Imperial Government of Confederating us is announced, but only with the consent of the people. Whether the "consent of the people" means by a vote of a packed Legislature, or by the direct "aye" or "no" of the inhabitants has yet to be found out.

English Mail Summary. It would seem that the journey of the Viceroy of Egypt to Europe was not without an object; he finds that he has raised a Frankenstein in the Suez Canal and goes to Europe to ask the great Powers to take it off his hands (i. e.) to guarantee its neutrality. In this he has partially succeeded-Austria, Prussia and England assenting, but France objecting. If the enterprise turns out to be really all that is claimed for it, it may yet become a plentiful source of diplomatic hot water. The new Chancellor of the Exchequer has undertaken a rather difficult task. He is endeavoring to persuade the English taxpayer that he can pay five quarters' taxes in one year and yet not be a loser by the transaction. The journals favorable to Mr. Lowe have been making violent efforts, to swallow his logic, but have been compelled to give it up. The arithmetic of the Chancellor of the Exchequer is frequently one sided. Tae irrepressible Mr. Roebuck is again in the field as a candidate, this time, for Marylebone. His political views as explained to the electors are a little paradoxical; he is a voluntaryist and opposed to the Irish Church in the abstract, but thinks Mr. Gladstone's measure ure impolitic and disbonest. Sir A. Clifton, the rolicking M. P. for Notta ingham, is dead, Mr. B. Osborne is mentioned as a likely Candidate. The notorious Mr. Rigby Wason, who institated proceedings some time ago against the Lord Chief Baron for some problematical grievance, and was nonsuited, is about to prosecute Earl Russel, Lord Chelmsford and Sir F. Kelly upon a charge of conspiring to defeat his appeals in the former action. A serious riot took place at Mold in Flintshire when the populace attempted to re-cue eight colliers who had been convicted of an assault upon the manager. The soldiers and police were pelted with stones, causing injuries which are likely to prove fatal in one case at least. After a great deal of forbearance on the part of the authorities the Riot Act was read and after a round of blank cartridge, ball were used which caused the death of three or four persons, the mob dispersed. The Garden of Eden has at length been found, according to Si: Henry Rawlinson, and it turns out to be Babylon. It is said that extremes meet, Chemists extract the most delicious perfumes from the most disgusting and bad smelling compounds. It may be possible to prove that the greatest amount of virtue, by some chemicomoral tronsformation, became the cocentration of vice. Sir Henry finds the geography quite correct, but had been unable to discover the tree of life. The weather in England has been most unseasonable _much rain, very low temperature, and absence of sunshine. The corn-jobbers are beginning to look lively in anticipation of a short harvest; appearances indicate unfavorably of the yield this year. This, combined with scarcity elsewhere, may send breadstuffs up to a very high price. We dont think we shall be much affected here. The aristocratic taste for amateur Stage-Coaching, prevalent some 50 years since, appears to be reviving. Lord Cirrington has started and frequently drives a stage from London to Windsor, and a similar enterprise has been commenced by another amateur on another capsized and eight seamen and boys were drowned. The Elections in France have conveyed an important hint to Nas poleon, which is that, notwithstanding all he has done for France since he ascended the throne, he has not attracted to his sine a single friend. Surely no surprise can be felt at his disinclination to relax the bonds by which he holds the people, when he knows, without an excuse for a doubt, that they would hurry him to the guillotine to-morrow if possible, and establish a Socialist Republic. The only friends that remain to the Emperor are the soldiers, and they are beginning to be lukewarm in consequence of inactivity and the lack of chance for promotion. No one knows better than the Emperor how dangerous and costly a war would be, but no one knows better how necessary a condition it is to him who would occupy the throne of France. The Italians have not yet found a good prime minister; the changes in their government within the last few months have been frequent enough in all conscience to have given them a chance of selecting the right man; but fate is against them. A second Cavour at this time would be of incalculable value to Italy, but, alas!

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Eastern States.

NEW YORK, June 29 .- Disputches from various parts of Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and other Northwestern States indicate great dam, age done to the cross, corn especially. The country is entirely overflowed in many places The railroads have been damaged, and trains are greatly delayed. One life lost. Should not some dry weather supervene, the wheat will probably be much damaged.

Washington, June 29 .- Surveyor-General Babcock, of Kansas, says that more than 30 persons had been killed by Indians at the time of the outbreak from different surveying parties in the field, all of whom have returned. One party was attacked by a smal band, who fled after being fired upon by the surveying party. All the surveying parties are alarmed and decline to return to the field at present, The Indians are not combined, and do not apparently intend to bring on a regular war. Several small bands are scouring the country, intending to kill and plunder without taking too many chances. Settlers and trains are in danger in those Dispatches received at the Navy Department announce the recommencement of civil war in Japan. The steamer Stonewall had been severely injored and one war-vessellest in a severe storm.

The British Minister recently had a long conference with Roberts, the Spacish Minister. It is generally believed the interview was in relation to centrality. England looks with interest upon our movements regarding the Cubans as having an important bearing on her course in not enforcing the neutrality law during the late rebellion.

Europe.

PARIS, June 28 .- The Emperor visited the city of Beauvais yesterday. The Mayor and Bishop of the city met the Emperor at the gates and conducted him to the Hotel de Ville, when they presented an address of welcome, il s Majesty, in reply to the Mayor's speech, returned thanks for the welcome be had received from the Municipality and the people, and reminded the Mayor of his presence in the city at the inauguration of the statue of the heroic Jean Touget la Halchette. He was pleased to see the progress which the city and the Department of which it was the capital had made in agriculture and industry, and declared that their prosperity was mainly due to the order which, for seventeen years past, has existed in France; and he was certain that this condition of order would never be seriously disturbed.

London, 29 - The Star to-day, in comthe departure menting upon York of Co!. Ryan's expedition, brings the circumstances to bear on the question of the claims now pending between the United States and Great Britain. It says we are interested in the conduct of the United States Government in this matter. The neutrality laws must be thoroughly enforced or the Americans will lose all they have gained in public opinion, which incrues a fair consideration of the Alabama claims. The Alabama escaped with an ordinary merchantman's crew on board, we are justly held to have incurred a high degree of responsibility for the consequences of her departure. The departure of eight hundred men from New York harbor, as far as can be judged from present accounts of the alfair, appears to be an infraction of the neutrality laws just as flagrant as the escape of Alabama, and one which would have been much more easily prevented.

DUBLIN, June 28-Large meetings were held yesterday in various parts of Ireland by those in favor of the release of the Feniar prisoners. At the Cork meeting 5000 persons were present. At Dublin, 2000. Similar meetings were held at Limerick and Drogbeda. In all cases strong resolutions were Majesty's ships lying at Malta, was sent. Butts, a prominent lawyer, made a speech in which he said all the true Irish ought to bide their time, put their trust in God and keep their powder dry. If the British Government persisted in keeping these men incarcerated in its prisons, concilliation would be useless. Dungarvon, made an impassioned speech; he declared that Fenian prisoners would not accept mercy; they demanded ju tice from the Ministers, the latter refused it; let their blood be upon their own heads. He would not, however, adcocate a resort to the sword, for that doctrine is now out of time.

AMSTERDAM, June 28-The printers of this city have struck for an advance of wages and shorter hours of work.

The True Medical Doctrine.

Nature when struggling with disease, indicates unmistakeably the kind of assistance she equires. In cases of nervous weakness and general debility, the feeble pulse, the lack-hastre eye, the attenuated frame the flaced muster than the phase they sixed inform us and the three three phase sheet is a second to the second second to the second seco tre eye, the attenuated frame the flaced mus-cles, the melancholy visage, inform us as plainly as if each organ had a tongue, that a medicated stimulant is needed. It does not re-quire the aid of a medical education to inder-stand this dumb appeal for new vigor, from an exhausted system. Every reader of these lines can comprehend it just as well as the graduate of a physicians' college, Let not this demand of enfectived nature be neglected. Respond to it promptly by commencing a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation uniting, in their highest excellence the properties of a stimulant, an invigorant and an alterative. Before three days have elapsed, from the taking of the first dose, a benificial change will be manifest in sodily and mental condition of the patient. The pulse will be stronger and more regular the eye will begin to lose its dull expression, the muscular and nervous systems to recothe eye will begin to lose its dull expression, the muscular and nervous systems to recover their tension, and the spirits to improve. Persevere and a complete revivification of the depressed animal and mental powers is certain. In cases of dyspepsia and biliousness, the same salutary results will be obtained. The appetite will revive, the sallowness of the skin dissappear, and all the distressing symptoms which accompany disorders of the stomach and liver will rapidly subside. The cold of winter often intensifies these complaints by checking the perspiratory action, thy which so much morbid matter is evaporated through the pores in milder weather, and therefore the BITTERS are especially useful to the dyspeptic and at this season. to the dyspeptic and at this season.

and roughness of the skin generally arise from depraved or vitiated humors. Bristol's Sar-saparilla is the best of all known purifiers of the blood and humors. This untailing deter-gent neutralizes the poison, and occasional doses of Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills, taken at same time, purge out the unhealthy secretions insuring a smooth white, soft skin.

Collegiate School—Distribution of Prizes.

The distribution of prizes at the Boy's Collegiate School took place yesterday, and attracted many lady and gentlemen visitors. The chief Justice occupied the chair and previous to commencing the distribution congratulated the Principal, Rev. Frank Gribbell. upon the very marked improvement that had taken place in the school during the past year, both as regarded the number of pupils in regular attendance and in the general tone of the school.

Mr Gribbell in reply stated, that he took charge of the school on the 3d of August las: when there were only 26 scholars: now, he felt proud to say, there were 77 on the roll the average attendance being about 60. The institution was entirely self supporting. [Hear, hear.] His efforts were ably seconded by two gentlemen teachers, and by Mr Vinter, who instructed the ! boys twice a week in military exercises. [Hear.] The boys were also encouraged in base ball, cricket, and other athletic sports. The prizes, Mr Gribell said, were given by Mr Hankin and the Standing Committee, who acted in the absence of the Lord Bishop.

The Chief Justice then proceeded to award the prizes, accompanying each gift with a few felicitous remarks. The list is as fol lows:-1st Prize, 'Desert World,' G Coben 'Mysteries of Ocean,' A Fisher Birds,' E Marvin

BANK OF BRITISH NORTH AMERICA .- The thirty-third yearly general meeting was held at the London Tavern, June 1st. Mr. W. B. Hume in the Chair. The report, which simply testifies to the accuracy of the accounts, and declares a dividend at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, with a bonus of 1 per cent. payable on the 5th July, free of income tax, was taken as read. The Chairman in moving that the report of the accounts be adopted, endorsed the scheme of Mr. Rose, Finance Minister of the Dominion. If the scheme was carried, he believed they would hear very little more of that over-trading and reckless speculation to which Mr. Rose attribu'ed the commercial difficulties and distress which had of late been experienced in Canada, and which to some extent had unquestionably affected the profits of the bank. The general manager was now at Ottawa, and he honed that by this time the secretary, Mr. McNab, who had completed the examination of the several branches, had joined him, and would be able to cooperate with Mr. Paton for the advantage of the bank. In answer to a shareholder the Chairman added that the usury laws in Canada bad been so far altered that they could now charge 7 per cent. interest, also commissions and other charges. The motion adopting the report and accounts was then put and carried unanimously. The directors retiring by rotation -Mesers. H. Boggs, J. Ranking, and R. H. Glyn-were re-elected, and a vote of thanks to the Chairman and his colleagues concluded

The scholars were examined in Reading, History Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, Mensuration and Euclid, and in the opinion of the the visitors exhibited considerable progress and a record to that effect was made on the Visitors' Book. The principal, Mr. Jessop, made a few remarks, in the course of which be regretted that the average attendance was not so large as it should have been when he considered the number of names on the record He'hoped, however, that under the new system, a greater degree of regularity and punctuality would be observed. Remarks were made by Revs. Somerville and Russ, and Messre. McKuy, Leigh and Bury, commendatory of the discipline and proficiency of the school Some of the speakers alluded to the carelessness of the officials, evinced by the non-attendance of any member of the Government. The principal then appounced the last session of the institution under the Free School system to be at an end, and added that if reopened it would be under the auspices of the City Council.

The cutters commence to operate at the bottom of the groove. The inventors, state that they propose to employ a horizontal revolving wheel or disc, hav ng a series of cutters mounted on the periphery thereof, such cuttersbeing made to cut outwards or from the bottom of the groove, or undercut to the face of the working, whilst the body of the machine itself takes its bearing against the face in order to resist the strain of the cut In some cases one or more guide-rails may be employed in addition. The whole is mounted on a suitable carriage, made sufficiently low to admit of the cutters getting well down to the bottom of the face for the purpose of 'holing in' the bottom when required. The cuttor-wheel is rotated slowly but powerfully by the aid of spur bevel, and worm gearing carried on the me in framing. The Proposed Union of British Columbia with Canada-Interesting Debate in the British House of Commons.

June 2d, 1869.

Mr. Verney, in rising to move for all papers relating to the union of British Columbia with Canada, said British Columbia contained a great amount of mineral wealth, but in the mining part sufficient food could not be grown for those who arrived there. On the one side of the Rocky Mountains, however, the re were millions of acres which might be cultivated, and which would afford food to those who worked the mines to the west. He trusted the Government of Canada would take up this question in the way it ought to be viewed and that the right hon, gentleman the Under-Secretary for the Colonies would be able to inform the House that the Parliament and Government of Canada, as well as the authorities of British Columbia and the Hudson Bay Company, had come to some agreement, so that those vast territories might be utilized. He begged to move for any papers on the union of British Celumbia with the Dominion of Canada. of the Dominion of Canada.

Mr. R. Fowler seconded the motion, and

Mr. Sinclair Aytoun asked whether the gov or Singuist Ayoun asset whether the government had any intention to ask a guarantee of money to be raised by Canada for the purpose of purchasing the rights of the Hudson Bay Company? It so, he should oppose Mr. Kinnaird said the shortest route to China lay through North America; and we sugnit to remember what the United States were doing in that matter. They had now completed the new route from New York to San Francisco, and the journey could be per-formed in seven days and seven nights in the most comfortable manner, sleeping cars, restaurants, &c., being provided for passengers. He should like to know how we should have stood in regard to railways in India without unarantees. He hoped the Government of his country would encourage guarantees to develope the roate referred to by the hon, baronet the member for Buckingham, and that they would not be deterred from doing to by the alarm of the hop, member who had ooken last. Colonel Sykes was afraid the views of the hon, gentleman respecting a route from China and India through British North America, were a little visionary.

Mr. Samue's in hoped the Imperial Goverament would withdraw as much as possible om all connexion or interference with the flairs of Canada.

Mr Monsell, Under-Secretary for the Otories, replied that it was the policy of Her Majesty'. Government to throw on the colonies as far as was possible the cost of their own self-defence. They had already taken stope in that direction, which had saved a considerable amount of public expenditure. They also meant to extend that diture. They also meant to extend course still forther in the ensuing year, and to make arrangements that where it was absolutely necessary that Imperial troops hould be kept in any self-governing colony he celear should pay the whole cost of the troops. It was not a mere question, as the hon, geneleman who last spoke seemed to ruppose, of some few hundred thousand acres of land; it was a question of opening a great and fertile territory, from which colonization and civilization had been entirely excluded by a fur trading company; of open-ing the way to cive leading, and of earlying the just and legitumate ambition of the Canadin Government to extend their Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific and, in addition, to remove a source of con-iterable inconvenience from the Imperial Government, which had to be responsible for the acts of Her Majesty's subjects in a dis-trict where there was no sufficient guarantea for law or order, and where, as he should show in the course of his remarks, serious show in the course of his remarks, serious difficulties arose within the last four or five years with the neighboring American ernment on account of the absence of any proper control within the Hudson Bay Terri tory. His hon friend had asked him a ques-tion with respect to British Columbia. There had been several indications by means of public meetings and otherwise, of a great desire on the part of the inhabitants of Bri-tish Columbia to become connected with the Dominion of Canada. The most recent in-formation was to the effect that they had undergone a change in that respect, but whether they had changed their minds or not, he was quite sure that they would change them back again, for it was perfectly obvious that it was to the advantage of British Columbia to be connected with Canada, and that the rich valley of the Saskatchewan was almost a necessary complement to her territory. There was in British Columbia importance in the development of the resources of a country. The proposal which had been made by his noble friend [Lord Granville], and which had been accepted by the Hudson Bay Company, and which he hoped and believed would be accepted by the Canadian Government, would, of course, in no way touch British Columbia. This procession are few as its flatted them the inon no way total Blitche Columbia. Inia question, so far as it affected them, the inhabitants of British Columbia would have to decide for themselves, but the Government would afford them overy facility should they wish to join the Dominion of Canada, and he entertained very little doubt that they would yery soon adopt that course. The would very soon adopt that course. The subject to which his hon friend had called attention was one which had now been under attention was one which had now been under the notice of the Government for many years Ev r s nce the committee of 1857 successive Governments had endeavored to arrange terms between the Canadian Government and the Hudson Bay Company.

Sir Stafford Northcote defended the Hudson Bay Company in responding to some re-marks that had fallen from Mr Monsell. Viscount Bury approved of the mode pro-vided for the transfer of the North West Ter-through this territory have an excellent route to our posses-ious in the East, and he be-lieved that within the life time of many now iving there would be established, by canal, railroad and telegraph, driect commun-nication between the Atlantic and Pacific. [Hear, bear.] The davigation required tm-provement be believed only in three places to admit of their taking a sbip straight from England to the foot of the Rocky Mountains without discharging carge. The land, too, could be easily adapted to the laying of rail-ways, as the gradients to be overcome were very few and very slight. Against the doubt which had been suggested as to the loyalt to of Canada in certain events he felt is right to raise his voice. On the lowest ground, that raise his voice. On the lowest ground, that of self-interes, it would not be for the advantage of Canada to join the Un.ted States. Why should Canada, which now had a complete autonomy, throw itself into the hands of a neighboring Republic? The yoke of the Queen did not press heavily upon the Canadians, and they escaped from finding themselves every four years involved in the throes of what resembled the sublimated essence of a general election—the election of a Prefident—which was no sooner decided than dent-which was no sooner decided than dect—which was no sooner decided than they were thrown afresh into the turmoit of cauvassing for his successor. Canada moreover, in place of diminishing her taxation by joining the United States, would have to take over a share of the existing dubt. On the other hand, by remaining as she was, with one half of the continent of America in her hands, her future presents were not infarior. hands, her future prospects were not interior to those of the Uured States. The Canadians, he insisted, were attached from sentiment and from conviction to the form of government under which they lived at present and had no wish to abandon the monarchical form of government for any other. (Cheers.)

Sir C. Dilke suid that the communication made by the United States between the Adantic and Pacific was not mainly commercial in its object, but political—namely, nerial in its object, but political—namely, to unite one portion of the country to another. It a similar communication were desirable through Bri ish territory as a political question, it concerned Canada, and not the Imperial Government. If it were advocated as commercial question, it about to remembered that America had got the start, and borod that America had got the start, and that delicate goods like tea and silk, which had to be shipped and unshipped four times, would be more likely to come by water than by land carriage acrosa the United States. Of course, when civilization was extended. Of course, when civilization was extended, when homesteads were founded, when crops were grown, railways would be required to give a market to the farmers : but that would not be till a settlement had been made, and not be till a settlement had been made, and therefore the notion of our spending money or gunranteeing any expenditure by Canada at our riv was out of the question. No scheme of that kind was necessary, either on scheme of that kind was necessary, either on account of its commercial advantage or of any aid it could give to emigration.

Mr. Adderley was glad attention had been called to this subject, because what had been stated by the Union Secretary for the Celinies, by the noble lord the member for Ber-wick-on-lweed, and the discussion which had followed, would spread abroad in the country a knowledge of the great resources which the great Fertile Belt in the Hads m's Bay territory would open up to colonization It was a great misfortune to this country that so much ignorance should prevail among the people with reference to the colonies which belonged to us. (Hear, hear.) It had often struck bim that even in private schools every geography was taught but that of our colonies. Americans who visited this country were astonished that so ittile attention was given to this subject in the primary ducation of the great mass of the people. Our colonies ought to be as well availableto the peot-up wealth of this insular kingtom as the Far West was to America; and should be the great resource bround increasing population, and almost a gistantee against the poverty of any class in the community. England had a great interest in making this arrangement as perfect as possible. We were removing that barrier we had ourselv's created, and, having done so, we in Jertook no more than to unit with our felow countrymen in Canada in chening up the prosperity of this vast tract offertile ountry and rendering it as available to those who emigrate honce as to those who live on the spet. And when it was said that some expressions had been used in 3.itish Colimbia indicating an inclination to annexation with the United States, it should be recollected that the greater part—98 per contool the population came from the United States and therefore it was natural that their inclination should be stronger for thir own country than towards Great Britan, but when once this territory was opened up the tide of population going from this country would be greatly increased, the English population would spread over it, and a territorial provision would become available for every family in England that choic to go

Mr. Gladstone said that with regard to the principal topic of debate, he must say it was a question of the greatest interest to consider what would be the course of events sider what would be the course of events with respect to the future settlement of the great valley of Saskatchewan. Undoubtedly the testimony on the subject was conflicting. Sir G. Simpson, in his interesting work of a voyage round the world, certainly spoke in sanguine terms of that tract of territory, though subsequently when he appeared before a Select Committee, he qualified to a considable degree his previous statements. He would now proceed to say one word with able degree his previous statements. He would now proceed to say one word with respect to colonial guarantees. In private life when a man was not ready to undertake an engagement on behalf of somebody else, he ought to leave on the mind of the person a belief that he was not to be applied to again, instead of leaving the impression that he was Island the finding of coal was going on very rapidly. Of that fact there could be no better proof than that the dividends of the Vancouver Coal Company had risen from 2 or 3 to 20 per cent., at which price they process. (A laugh.) He hoped that our excel-lent fellow-subjects in Canada were not under such an impression. (Hear, hear.) of course, no absolute rule could be haid down upon tho subject of colonial guarances. But when-ever a Government had proposed a colonial guarantee, this House had always expected it to show that the proposal was made with a view of escaping from the kind of relation view of escaping from the kind of relations under which our colonial follow-subjects would bear their own burdens and leave us to bear ours. In conclusion, he thanked the hon, member (Sir C. W. Dilke) for having given the House the benefit of his experience with regard to the difficulties with which this portion of the subject was beset. (Hear, hear.

The Rrazilian Difficulty. New York, June 21 .- The following is a condensed account of Minister Webb's correspondence with the Brazilian Government

In October, 1856 the American whale ship Canada got ashore. Brazilian soldiers seized the vessel, sold the cargo and depos t ed the proceeds in the Brazilian treasury A proclamation was made by our Government that the owners claimed $40,000 damages, and finally Minister Webb was authorized to compromise on the payment of $70...

000. The late Baron de C lyept rejected the offer on behalf of the Brazilian Government, on the ground that coarting diplomatic forms were not complied with. Webb declared this excuse absurd; whereupon he received a note from the Brazilian Government stating that no disrespect was intended, but the Brazilian ideas of punctillio were to be kept in standing. The claim not having been satisfied, Minister Wobb demanded and received h s passports and while he was pre-paring to leave for home, he discharged his farewell epistle at the Brazilian Court, telling then that they had used in disregard of his rights, grossly insulving his Government it that the present pre-slavery Government of Brazil had also violated the rights which by Courteen helper the his collegers, the Brazil and the courte who he was the Brazil and the collegers that the col courtesy belong to his colleagues; that Bra-zil had been admitted into the family of civilzed nutions and must be required to discharge her duties if she voluntarily assumed to teach others the practice of in-ternational amenities. This note appears to have brought the Brazilians to their senses The Government immediately yielded to al Webb's demands and diplomatic relations
